MANNA MAIL - ISSUE 119 - 5/2/12

Meet Dr. Maritza Perez Brenes. She has been a Primary Care Doctor for 26 years, and has worked at the clinic we partner with in La Chureca (community we work with in Managua, Nicaragua's city trash dump) for over 9 years. As many of you know, La Chureca is vulnerable to so many illnesses and diseases – especially in children – and she enjoys going to work because she can help the community. She has 3 children and 2 grandsons that she absolutely loves spending time with! Dr. Perez studied medicine in Nicaragua at UNAN (Universidad Nacional Autonoma de Nicaragua) and works full-time at the clinic.

We are looking for teams of people to collectively sponsor salaries of La Chureca clinic staff. For $1,950 monthly, we can cover all salaries to operate the clinic in the trash dump that provides 30,000 treatments per year to the 2,000 individuals living in La Chureca. For Dr. Perez, the total amount needed is $350 per month. You can sponsor monthly at any amount to join her 'sponsorship team'.

Will you help sponsor Dr. Perez's work in La Chureca?
